

Build a better clinical workflow.

Better for your team. Better for your workflow. Better for your bottom line.

Whether you're replacing stainless steel or standardizing procedures, now is the perfect time to expand your clinical workflow for a more organized, standardized, and high-performing practice.

- Lightweight one-piece resin construction reduces handling fatigue.
- Curved edge design promotes efficient cleaning and drying.
- Secure instrument retention prevents movement during processing, extending the life of your instruments.
- Highly durable for repeated sterilization.
- Available in multiple colors to support Color Method® organization and standardized workflows.
- Reduces the risk of sharps injuries by minimizing the handling of loose instruments and keeping them contained.
